HONOR TO HUSBANDS

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ENTERTAINS THE MALE ELEMENT WITH UNIQUE BANQUET AND CONCERT

The most enjoyable affair of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club year was the banquet and program given in honor of the husbands of the members, Tuesday evening, November 23, at Masonic Temple. Approximately two hundred were seated at the banquet tables, which were prettily decorated with artistic fruit baskets, or choice roses with asparagus plumosa. Gracious hostesses presiding at the individual tables, besides Mrs. E. W. Richardson, chairman of the banquet committee, were the Mesdames Albert D. Pearce, R. A. Peterson, C. O. Pulliam, S. C. Packer, George E. Adams, Helen Campbell, W. P. Thompson, Louise L. Joseph, Menzo Williams, W. W. McElroy, Harry B. Lynch, Julius Kranz, Henry Johnston, John Hunchberger, and C. E. Harlan. These ladies carried out a clever "get-acquainted" scheme at the tables, which was much enjoyed.

The decoration committee had beautifully adorned the Temple with roses, smilax and vines of English ivy for the delightful program which followed the banquet. To the deep regret of all, illness prevented the beloved president of the club, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, from being present. In her place, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, first vice-president, presided, and in her inimitable and charming way welcomed "those we love the best—our husbands, fathers and brothers." Following a beautiful tribute to these honor guests of the evening, Mrs. Campbell stirred the patriotism of all as she contrasted the happy lot of America's women on such an occasion with that of their bereaved sisters across the sea. With words of appreciation, Mrs. Campbell turned the evening's program over to Mrs. E. H. Willisford, the efficient chairman of program. Mrs. Willisford announced the concert to be given by the Pacific Mutual Glee Club, Mr. Horatio Cogswell, director. Mrs. C. E. Jacobson is the able accompanist, and Mr. Claude A. Wayne the manager of this popular organization. A well selected program of delightful numbers was presented to an appreciative audience as follows:

Soldier's Chorus, Faust (Gounod)—Glee Club. A humorous encore which paid its respects to the Tuesday Afternoon club followed.

Comrade Song (Bullard)—Glee Club, with a humorous encore.

Baritone Solo, "When the Roses Bloom"—Mr. Frank Otto.

De Coppah Moon (Shelley)—Glee Club.

Mr. Everette Mattoon in his monologue specialties, "If I Could Be By Her," and "A Japanese at the Telephone" was especially pleasing.

Invictus (Huhn)—Glee Club.

Tenor Solo, "Because," with the encore, "Mother Machree"—Mr. James R. Frackerton.

Phantom Band (Thayer)—Glee Club, with the old-time favorite encore, "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

The piano solo by Mrs. C. E. Jacobson was well received.

Mammy's Lullaby (Jamison)—Glee Club, with two popular airs as encores.

Duet, (In This Solemn Hour (La Foza del Distino) (Verdi)—Messrs. Shackelton and Otto.

De Sandman (Protheroe)—Messrs. Allen, Kinsey, Jacobson, Wayne.

In his bass solos, "Dannie Deever" (Damrosch), and the encore, "Mother O' Mine" (Kipling), Mr. Everette Mattoon, the reader, demonstrated his ability in dramatic song as well.

Medley from the South (Pike)—Glee Club. The encore, "The Cuckoo Clock," an appropriate specialty, closed the evening's program.

During the business session, Mrs. Campbell called attention to the subscription list, the club's method this year of obtaining the clubhouse fund. Mrs. Campbell states that following the receipt of the subscriptions, the names of the donors will be published.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones explained the object of the Political Science and Civics section, and announced the meeting to be held Thursday, December 2. The study hour of this section will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Kenwood street, at 2:30 p. m. The section will adjourn to the Intermediate school at 4 p. m. for the public meeting, at which Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsay will speak on the subject, "Women in City Government."

At the request of the curator of the Music section, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mr. Mattison B. Jones announced the charity benefit concert to be given in Glendale by Signor Constantino and other artists, Friday, November 26.

The Rev. E. H. Willisford, in behalf of the guests of the evening, expressed their appreciation of the delightful banquet and program with which they had been honored.

KILLED BY AUTO

HEAVY CAR SMASHES INTO PARTY ON SAN FERNANDO ROAD WITH DEADLY EFFECT

Thanksgiving day, like many other holidays, did not pass without its serious accident to mar the harmony of the rejoicing. All day San Fernando road was the scene of a merry procession of autos carrying their happy human freight out to various points in the valley to celebrate the day with friends. At night the returning procession was equally dense and joyous.

Among the celebrators of the day were two parties which were returning between 9 and 10 o'clock, after a happy day. The one party was walking home; the other was in an auto. When the auto, which was a heavy Chalmers 7-passenger car, driven by C. A. Tarr, a young man of 20 years, reached a point on the road not far from Vine street another auto coming from the city passed and young Tarr claims its light blinded him so that he did not see the party walking in front of him. The heavy car smashed into the party and literally ploughed its way through it. The impact of the car killed Albert Alexander, 1427 Park avenue, Tropico, and seriously injured Mr. V. Seldina, 1427 Park avenue, Tropico; Mrs. V. Seldina, 1427 Park avenue, Tropico; Roas Perin, Sixth street and San Fernando road; Francis Perin, Sixth street and San Fernando road, and Pauline Clark, Sixth street and San Fernando road.

The Glendale police went to the scene of the accident and arrested C. A. Tarr, the driver of the Chalmers auto. Tarr was brought to Glendale and was afterward released and will appear when called on.

The body of Albert Alexander was taken to the Pulliam Undertaking parlors in Glendale. The head was badly bruised and there were many other injuries. The rest of the party was taken to the Mission Hospital in Tropico. It was there found that Miss Clark was very seriously injured and it is feared she may not recover.

The occupants of the Chalmers auto were: C. A. Tarr, 2705 Temple street; W. F. Tarr, H. F. Tarr, Miss Eva Tarr, Miss Florinda Tarr, Arline Tarr, F. P. Bush and Miss Kellar, all of Los Angeles.

Arrangements have been made to hold the inquest on the body of Albert Alexander, in the Pulliam Undertaking parlors, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HOUSEWARMING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby entertained a company of their friends at dinner Thanksgiving day. The party was in the nature of a housewarming as the host and hostess have just taken up their residence in their new bungalow at 104 N. Jackson street. The diningroom and table were beautifully decorated with red carnations, smilax and ferns. The place cards were hand-painted and the favors were of holly. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Miss Gertrude Wilson, Master Verne Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, Mr. Owen C. Emery, Master Gilbert Emery, Miss Waunita Emery, Josephine Emery, Olive Belle Emery, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Emery, Dr. Charles R. Lusby, Dr. Ralph W. Lusby, Miss Margaret Lusby.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY

The victorious Baraca boys of the Presbyterian church, who have won four games, tied one and lost none this season, are anxious that a good crowd should turn out to the game to be played Saturday afternoon at 2:30, on the Third Street school grounds. A good crowd will put heart into the team, which is to play the San Fernando High school. The public may depend on a fast and interesting game. Following is the lineup: Eccles r.e., Norton r.g., Bidwell r.t., Shea c., Barager l.g., McIver l.t., Sharpe l.e., Frazer q.b., Wilson f.b., (captain) r.h., Smith l.h., subs, Carmichael, Grist and Robertshaw.

SALT LAKE TRAIN KILLS CAR DRIVER

GIVEN ELLMAR DEAD IN COLLISION WITH ENGINE—BROTHER FATALLY INJURED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONG BEACH, Nov. 26.—Given Ellmar was killed today in a collision with a Salt Lake train. Ellmar and his brother Charles were in an auto-truck crossing the line at the time. They did not notice the train which charged down the line at considerable speed and caught the car just as it had got on the rails. The impact smashed the auto-truck and killed Ellmar instantaneously. His brother Charles was very badly injured and it is thought he has a very slim chance of living.

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO SWEEPS ARKANSAS

THIRTEEN ARE DEAD AND FORTY INJURED IN BAD STORM—MANY TOWNS CUT OFF

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 26.—Thirteen are dead and forty injured, many of them fatally in a terrific tornado which swept over the state yesterday. The storm threw down many telegraph poles and interrupted communication everywhere. Many towns are cut off by reason of this interruption and no news can be obtained from them. It is believed that the death list which keeps growing hourly will be found quite large when communication is opened up again.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

STRONG RUSSIAN ATTACKS REPELLED

GERMANS HOLD THEIR OWN IN FACE OF FORMIDABLE BATTERING BY THE MUSCOVITES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN Nov. 26.—All the Russian attacks on the Northern section of the east front were repulsed today, according to an announcement made by the war office. The German troops, which have been retiring on the Riga-Dvina front have been subjected to a series of assaults in force by the Muscovites who have been plentifully supplied with ammunition; but the strong barbed wire entanglements of the Teuton trenches were too much for the soldiers of the Czar, who fell back after suffering heavy losses.

Faltin, refuses to carry out the execution. Faltin should have been executed at noon today, but the warden refused to carry out the sentence. He stated today to the Board of Pardons that Faltin was insane and that in view of his mental condition the order of the court would not be carried out.

VILLISTAS FIRE ON AMERICAN TROOPS

DRUNKEN MEXICAN SOLDIERS PROVOKE UNCLE SAM'S MEN TO RETURN THEIR FIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 26.—Drunken Villista troopers fired across the international boundary here today at noon. The United States infantry, which is stationed in the town returned the fire, killing many. The streets of the town were at once deserted by all the inhabitants who barricaded themselves in their houses. The streets were swept with volleys fired by the Villistas who indulged in insulting gestures at the Americans. Those who thus exposed themselves were promptly shot down by the American soldiers. No one was injured on the American side, thanks to the precautions taken to clear the streets. The fight continues. The Mexicans are firing at intervals and appear greatly annoyed by the slaughter occasioned among them.

AMERICAN ARRESTED IN BOMB CONSPIRACY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—J. C. Crowley, investigator for District-Attorney Fickert, was arrested here today on a charge of being implicated in the German bomb plot. It is stated here that the conspiracy to blow up American munitions factories and ships conveying munitions to the Allies was widespread and that some sensational arrests are in contemplation the moment the secret service can obtain evidence sufficient for conviction.

CURRENT EVENTS

BURGLARS, DEATH NOTICE, ELKS PATROL HOSTS, THANKSGIVING REUNION

BURGLARS WERE BUSY

Taking advantage of the fact that many people were occupied in celebrating Thanksgiving and less watchful than usual of their premises, burglars were busy last night in Glendale. In one case the housebreakers got a large haul of jewelry. The house of C. H. Woolsey, 1627 Riverdale Drive, was broken into by a burglar about 9:20 p. m. and thoroughly overhauled, the robber getting away with a fine assortment of rings, watches, pins, gold beads, bracelets and other valuable ornaments. The value of the loot is estimated at several hundred dollars. No trace of the thief has been found. He effected his entry through a window.

About an hour after this burglary had been perpetrated another house was broken into and a quantity of personal property stolen. The house was that of C. F. Parker, 227 S. Central avenue. Immediate efforts were made to trace the thief or thieves but up to this morning no success rewarded the police.

VIOLETS

One of the most delightful occasions on the social calendar the past week was the afternoon affair presided over by Mrs. Chas. J. Letts, complimentary to Mrs. Paul V. Tuttle, a recent bride, who has come to Glendale to make her home. Violets made up the pretty color used in beautifying the Letts' home at 1410 West First street on Wednesday. Bowls and baskets of the sweet blossoms were much in evidence in the pretty reception room, where those assembled spent the afternoon at Christmas needlework and conversation. The five o'clock supper, which was most elaborate, was also carried out in shades of violet, the table center floral scheme and bonbon cups being the same beautiful flower. Hand decorated place cards marked covers for the honoree, Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman, Mrs. Walter Pickarts, Mrs. L. C. Wills, Mrs. F. P. Kuntzner and hostess of the afternoon.

JAMES F. GRANT

James F. Grant passed away at the home of his stepson, Mr. Ed Price, 102 West 3rd St., Tuesday evening, November 23, at 7 p. m., after an illness extending over a period of six months. His age was 71 years, 10 months and 22 days. Mr. Grant was a native of Scotland, but had lived in this country many years. Ten years ago he came to California from Armordale, Kansas, where he was engaged in the mercantile business for a long time. He had lived in Glendale for the past six years. Mrs. Grant passed away six years ago. Four sons and two stepsons survive him.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at nine o'clock at the Church of the Holy Family, the Pulliam Undertaking company in charge.

ELK PATROL GRACIOUS HOSTS

The Stars and Stripes, purple and white streamers, cut flowers and ferns lent a pretty background for the dainty dancing frocks worn and uniform garb of the Elk Patrol, when the latter acted as hosts for the Thanksgiving dance, and by the way, a well attended one, on Wednesday evening in the attractive ballroom of their club. The informality of the affair made it successful and the "Paul Jones" numbers afforded a great deal of fun and merriment. Light refreshments and punch were served throughout the evening's entertainment.

THANKSGIVING REUNION

A pleasant Thanksgiving reunion was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler, 1..30 Ivy street, where a company of former Michigan friends were entertained. The rooms were decorated with roses and chrysanthemums. The place cards were hand-painted by Miss Lois Schuyler. The guests amused themselves throughout the afternoon with games. Those present were the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler; Ernest Schuyler, Lois Schuyler, Edith Schuyler, Hoyt Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, Kenneth Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cable, Raymond Cable, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Stokor and Dona Stokor of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lane and Marion Lane of Glendale.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday; northwesterly winds.

BEREAVED BY THE WAR

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN TELLS AWFUL TOLL EUROPEAN CONFLICT TOOK OF ONE FAMILY

When E. C. Wills, who is now resident in Glendale, left the beautiful county of Devon, in the south of England, for the United States, all was peace on the European continent. There were, it is true, the usual grumblings of discontent between crowned powers and there was a threatening condition in Austria, as there had been any time for the past ten years. After he reached this country and got settled down to work in California, however, the first shots were fired in Belgium that were to rend Europe to its center.

Young Wills, who is not much more than 20 years of age, thought little or nothing of those conditions, happy in his work on a large ranch in the San Pasquale valley, in San Diego county. "I was brought up on a farm in Devon," he said to a representative of The Glendale Evening News, "and the ranch life was congenial to me. I worked hard tending cows, milking and doing other ranch work. I was earning good wages and had little fear but that before long I would be owning my own land.

"All of a sudden came news to me that my three brothers had enlisted for the war in the famous First Devon. They were sent out to France and saw a great deal of the fighting. Then my father, who had been a soldier himself and had seen a great deal of warfare, felt the stimulus of the war time and offered his services. He was a man of 75 years of age, but well preserved and efficient in every way. His previous experience obtained for him the position of quartermaster and he, too, went to the front.

"In the battle of the Marne two of my brothers were killed on the field of battle. My third brother, George, had both his legs and one arm blown off. He was carried to the hospital, where he only survived a few days.

"Meantime, my father, who had heard of my brothers' deaths, got permission to go to the advanced trenches to see if the report was true. When he got there I suppose he got too far ahead and was caught in one of the gas attacks launched by the Germans. He was asphyxiated and he, too, died at the front.

"When the First Devon went to the front my two elder sisters also felt the call of duty and volunteered as nurses. They were sent to the front and after a long time of arduous duty both were stricken with typhoid fever and died. These bereavements came with great suddenness on our family, of which my mother, my younger sister, 14 years of age, and myself alone remain.

"This story gives one some idea of what has happened in so many families in the British Isles. Few houses are not in mourning. If they have not lost sons or fathers or daughters they have lost near relatives. The whole islands are in mourning. What must it be in Germany, where, to gratify the insane ambition of the military order no fewer than 3,000,000 men have been sacrificed?

"I was compelled to leave San Diego county because the ranch on which I was working was sold and cut up into small holdings. I am now looking out for suitable work in this vicinity. I hope to be able to bring my mother, a woman now 66 years of age, out here along with my sister. I do not know whether or not to congratulate myself on having been outside of the sphere of the war. Had I stayed in the old country I would undoubtedly have followed my brothers to the front."

FAMILY GATHERING

It fell to the lot of the N. C. Kelleys, 1117 Melrose avenue, to provide the feast this year for the annual family gathering on Thanksgiving day. Visiting and resident uncles, aunts and cousins were seated 'round the board at 2 p. m., following the taking of kodak groups on the lawn, beneath the skies of a perfect day. The national bird, surrounded by all the "trimmin's" was found to possess the usual attraction. Decorations, principally roses and chrysanthemums, astonished and delighted the eastern visitors by their profusion and beauty.

In addition to the family of the host and hostess there were present Mrs. A. L. Wyckoff and Mrs. T. H. Spence of Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Irwin of Los Angeles, formerly of St. Louis; Mr. L. I. Burchard and Miss Annie Irwin, both recently of Pittsburgh, Pa., but now residents of Los Angeles.

TRAINING BOYS FOR CITIZENSHIP

Many American cities are now endeavoring to train boys for citizenship by permitting them to mingle with men where they can see civic work in operation. In many different forms this training is going on on all sides. Cleveland and New York, for instance, have found much advantage to the boys and to themselves by permitting them to keep the public parks clean. In New York city itself where there is a very large mixed foreign population of no very high order the boys have been organized into a brigade that patrols the streets and warns the thoughtless or indifferent to avoid scattering waste or rubbish of any kind in the streets or parks.

This work, of course, is done in conjunction with the police of the city. The boys have no authority to make arrests; but they warn those who persist in breaking the ordinances that the regular patrolmen will arrest them. A great deal of valuable preventive work was thus done by these boys last summer. It was observed that the boys did not in any way misuse their opportunities; but were modest, efficient and watchful.

That a public conscience can in this way be developed among the coming generation is believed by those who have observed the effect of this training on the boys. The training is indirect but it leaves permanent effects and constitutes of the boys for the time they are under this influence valuable public servants.

In Winston-Salem, N. C.; in Cumberland, R. I. and in Altoona, Pa., the boys have been engaged in making an industrial survey of the town or similar work. In Salisbury, N. C., the transformation that has been effected in the negro quarter is almost unbelievable. In former days the quarter was not only indescribably filthy but was also positively unsafe at times. Now the co-operation of the young negroes has been obtained; the district has been cleaned up and in morals and decency is a credit to the city.

In other centers responsible boys have been given a limited police authority over municipal playgrounds. Boys' clubs have been recognized by various cities and their aid enlisted in maintaining order in public places. This has dispensed with police supervision. Philadelphia has in this way regenerated and reclaimed her "swamp poodles"—young toughs who made life unendurable in many neighborhoods.

Some of the other features that have been introduced in Eastern cities are courses in municipal government by prominent business men. Evanston, Ill. has established and maintains a gymnasium and boys' club where the young men of the neighborhood are always welcome. In this club are 173 active and 67 associate members, each of whom pays an annual fee of one dollar. These boys all take a profound interest in the field of civic endeavor.

Norfolk, Neb., gives an annual dinner to the boys of the town; so do the commercial men of Rochester, N. Y. Similar clubs open their doors one afternoon and evening of the week; invite the boys to come in and get acquainted with the business men of the town. The business men of Rochester also take the boys of the city on a trip every week through some industry where they learn all about the inside working of the plant.

Glendale has had an appeal made to it recently for a gymnasium for its young men who have no place where they can go at night. There is no doubt that the establishment of some proper place of amusement for boys and young men who are at present destitute of any such home would effect a great deal of good here. Every city owes an obligation to its young people to see that they have proper amusement and employment. The result cannot but be beneficial to both the city and the young people.

MARVELOUS TENACITY OF SERBS

On paper and acording to all conclusions of military tactics and strategy the Servian army should have been annihilated long ago. It sems strange to those who are content to leave the human element out of their calculations that the small army of Serbs should, up to this time, have been able to maintain itself in the field intact, practically, in the face of enormous odds; but there is something more than mere tactics in fighting.

In dealing with Austria the Servians were dealing with a foe that was by no means a match for them either in wits or in courage. Austria's overwhelming numbers were an immense advantage at first and the Servians were forced to retire in the face of the onward rush of the mighty army that Franz-Josef launched against them and even had to give up the famous frontier fortress—Belgrade.

King Peter, however, the king of Servia, sick and nigh to death rode to the front and passing among his men besought them to make one more effort to throw the enemy from the land. He asked them to follow him in a last attack on the Austrians. The army responded with enthusiasm and in an attack that could not be resisted drove the Austrians headlong from the country.

Attacked again by an overwhelming Germano-Austrian force on the front and suddenly taken in the rear by the treacherous Bulgarians, the Servians manifested a new courage and capacity that has not been surpassed in the whole history of the war. The Germans were repelled in attack after attack. Gen. Von Mackensen had to telegraph daily for reinforcements and when at last strengthened by fresh troops and aided by the whole Bulgarian army he was able to drive back the Servians it was only with enormous loss of life to his own army. The Servians retired grimly contesting every step. Every step, too, cost the Bulgar-Austro-German invaders enormous losses.

This is what has made the Servian the most formidable fighter of the whole war.. He is fighting for his own country in his own country. He is followed to the field by his wife and family. Many of the Servian women also are fighting in the ranks and are not to be despised as soldiers. They are cool and courageous and are excellent shots. Their many encounters with the Turks have strengthened their nerves and given them precious experience of how to fight a numerically superior foe to best effect.

There is no waste of ammunition in the Servian army. That is what has probably contributed more than anything else to the wonderful success that has attended the Servian operations. Just at this time of writing this inimitable army has turned like a lion on the pursuing Bulgarians and defeated them with great slaughter, freeing a district 40 miles wide from the invaders, cutting a way through their ranks and effecting a junction with the French forces. When the history of the war comes to be written the story of Servian courage and capacity will make stirring reading.

FOR CHRISTMAS

YOUR PHOTOGRAPH. The simple gift that lends the touch of friendship without the embarassment of an obligation.

S. C. MARANVILLE—The Photographer in Your Town.

Out of sheer interest in the ultimate, even though dissenting wholly from the achievement, it often is worth noting when a limit is reached. For instance, it is urged by a Senator of the United States that a primer for use in the public schools be prepared by the war department, in which children can find that which they need to know about "preparedness." Considerable of a revolution in the structure of government in the United States would be necessary for a federal department to gain legal authority to introduce such a primer in the locally controlled schools of the country, and pending that revolution it is hardly necessary seriously to consider such a proposition. But it still retains its interest as an achievement in defining a point beyond which it is practically impossible to go.—C. S. Monitor.

AN ANCIENT SONG BOOK

By SAMUEL PARKER

Passing Spencer's Book Store the other day I saw in the window a volume yellow from age, and other signs of venerability, for it had seen use in days gone by. On closer examination I soon saw what it was, and perhaps can best tell others by quoting the title page:

The Missouri Harmony, or a collection of Psalm and Hymn tunes and Anthems, from eminent authors; with an introduction to the grounds and rudiments of music, by Allen D. Carden, to which is added a supplement containing a number of admired tunes of the various metres and several choice pieces selected from some of the most approved collections of sacred music, by an amateur. Cincinnati. Printed and published by Phillips and Reynolds, latest improved edition, 1848."

Observe, this was a late and improved edition," the first being printed in 1835. I copy further, the first line of the preface: "The object of this selection is to supply the churches with a competent number of slow and solemn tunes in unison with the spirit and design of worship." I must quote one more line from this model preface, wherein the writer says, "The worship in which we could most resemble the inhabitants of heaven (singing) is the worst performed upon earth."

This book had generous use by Mr. Preston's father, in the period of its service, and for all I know to the contrary, the teachers, singers and scholars used this system generally, west of the Alleghenies, covering the period, 1830 to 1850. During this time I took some interest in singing schools in different portions of the state of Illinois, and I never saw in use any other book than the "Missouri Harmony," until 1850, when trade and travel became more common between the east and west.

Buckwheat Notes

In the Missouri Harmony the Buckwheat notes were used, that is, each note had a shape all its own, as if the inventor intended to make reading music easy, by supplementing the place for the note on the scale by the shape of the note. Whatever the object some had shape like a grain of buckwheat, hence the name. But the music and hymns used in this compilation would sound quite odd today, albeit the slow piano and forte marks are used as now. The slow and solemn tunes for worship may be inferred from first lines of the hymns used, a few of which I insert, but I cannot expect to convey to you, reader of today, a tithe of the solemn, reverential feeling made on me by this review. The words suggest the old familiar tune (largely learned by ear) and almost unconsciously the old air is essayed by the cracked voice of today, while memory calls up members of the chorus of long ago, now singing in "Glory Land."

First tunes taken at random. Some of these are extant, some are obsolete.

Broad is road that leads to death,
Show pity Lord, Oh, Lord forgive;
Why do we mourn departed friends?
Teach me the measure of my days,
Oh thou in whose presence my soul takes delight.
Awakened by Sinai's awful sound,
Hark, from the tombs a doleful sound
Come on my partners in distress.

That Awful Day Will Surely Come, What Sorrowful Sounds Do I Hear, Come On My Partners in Distress, I Love Thee My Savior, Oh When Shall I See Jesus, rather a solemn showing, only three here given rise into the realm of joyfulness.

In the '50s a change came, the West musically, as otherwise, Bradbury, Mason, Webb, Woodbury and Root, flooded the country with round note publications, and the buckwheat retired. New York and Boston schools in friendly strife sought each to excel the other. The great revival in Sunday Schools made great demand for juvenile publications.

A Change

Musical conventions, with capable conductors, were held in cities of 2,000 inhabitants. This, during the '50s, was a primal condition precedent to the breaking out of the Civil war, when the ability to sing well greatly aided the desire to do it. Patriotic songs greatly aided the recruiting officers, so said President Lincoln.

PINEAPPLE SHERBERT

The following is a very good recipe for pineapple sherbert. Take one quart of preserved pineapple, cut it fine and add to it one quart of cream. Mix well and freeze; when nearly frozen open the freezer and add the beaten whites of three eggs. Continue freezing and let stand one hour to ripen. Serve in sherbet glasses with a teaspoon of whipped cream on top of each and a cherry in the center. Any good loaf cake may be used with the sherbert.

Santa Claus' representatives in Glendale are the members of the Knights Templar lodge. You can be of much assistance to them in their noble work by purchasing one or more tickets to the Charity ball, December 2.

Mrs. Chas. E. Stanley of 336 Everett street was moved from the Sanitarium to her home just to spend a few hours with the family on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Stanley is improving very slowly from bruises and strains sustained when she fell about a week ago.

Mrs. P. K. Streeton and daughter Margaret, of Chicago, are guests of Mrs. H. Henning, 1021 W. Seventh street. Mrs. Stretton had planned to return East the latter part of this month, but the many attractions of the Southland have so charmed her that she has decided to remain over the holidays.

If you have felt that you would like to make some poor child happy this Christmas you may do so by purchasing a ticket to the Knights Templar ball. Every ticket these assistants of Santa Claus sell means a dollar for presents. There is no deduction for expenses as everything is donated.

The Glendale Choral club, a local organization of good singers, will give their first concert of this season on Friday evening, November 29, in the Masonic hall. An excellent program has been arranged under the personal direction of Prof. J. V. Poulin of Los Angeles. Prof. Poulin is also director of the Los Angeles Woman's Lyric club.

Fuchsia and ferns adorned the table center on Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Holman, 1475 West Broadway, presided at a family dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Holman of Los Angeles, Reverend and Mrs. C. V. Lafontaine of Spokane, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. John Todd, parents of Mrs. Holman, and the Misses Nellie, Lila, Edith, Alice and Della Todd, and Messrs. Ray and George Todd of Glendale.

The elaborate plans for the Christmas ball are being brought to a focus as the date of this important event draws near. All committees are working earnestly to make this the biggest social event ever held in Glendale, as well as to realize a large sum to be spent in spreading the true Christmas spirit in Glendale, giving to those who would otherwise receive no Christmas cheer. No more commendable act can be imagined than to make some child happy at Christmas.

WHAT MAKES A CITY GREAT?

Nature provides the opportunities for a city, but cities do not become great save as men of energy and intelligence make the most of the opportunities.

The greatness of this city, blessed with a location unsurpassed among inland cities of the world, can never surpass the greatness of living men who are in charge of its development.

Why handicap it by putting little men in power, who could not do great things even if they desired?—Philadelphia Ledger.

WOMEN IN PRESS GALLERIES

The woman's rights question is causing dissension in the ranks of the Washington newspaper correspondents' corps. The demand of women newspaper writers for the privileges of the press galleries of congress is the subject of hot debate. The women have threatened to appeal to Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark.

While the petticoat line has not been drawn against women writers, only one woman heretofore has enjoyed the privileges of the galleries. Because of the necessity of "covering" the appearance of Mrs. Norman Galt and the president, women society reporters, feature and magazine, as well as "legitimate" newspaper correspondents have demanded that they be given seats in the reserved pres sections.

A compromise in sight today, advanced by the standing committee of correspondents governing admission to the press seats,i s that a section of seats in the senate and house public galleries be set off for the women writers. This will leave the working rooms still available practically for men only.

Dr. Raymond Ludden, the well-known osteopathist, who has been located at 114 S. Brand boulevard during the past year, and has built up a satisfactory practice there, has moved his office and residence to 345 S. Orange street, corner of Broadway. 78t6.

CHARITY CONCERT

ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS INSURES FULL HOUSE TO HEAR THE FAMOUS TENOR

Through the efforts of the Music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club and the many friends of the ladies of the club the advance sale of tickets for the Constantino concert has been large enough to insure a full house to hear the famous tenor. The sale of tickets has been gratifying and as the prices range from 50 cents to $1.50 a very goodly sum should be received.

This money will be used for the benefit of the Maternity cottage and the Children's hospital. These two very worthy charities are much in need of help at present. Among the first items of expenditure to be cut down in bad times are donations to charities and these two estimable institutions have suffered severely by reason of the cutting-down of a considerable part of their income.

Signor Constantino, whose fame as a tenor is world-wide, who has sung before the most illustrious audiences in Russia, Germany, Italy, France, Britain and South America, has a voice of great range, power and sweetness. He ranks about as high as Caruso in the estimation of the best musical critics and always attracts large audiences.

It is not often that a singer of such merit comes to a place like Glendale. It is needless to say that Glendale could have offered Constantino no inducement to come here from a financial standpoint. Nothing but the idea of doing good could have brought the famous tenor to this place. To do good; to help the helpless; to succor the needy, has always been a leading motive in Constantino's life and many are the kindly deeds for which he has sought no credit, which have marked his journeyings through the world. Not the least of them will be this charity concert in Glendale.

With the excellent program which has been prepared and the enthusiasm of the community there should be hearty reception tendered Signor Constantino and the other artists who will assist him in the concert tonight.

MRS. SLOAN LUNCHEON HOSTESS

In her attractive home at 1550 Myrtle street was the scene of a stunning, and the first annual luncheon, at one o'clock on Wednesday, given by Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan to members of the Glendale Shakespeare club, of which the hostess is president, and a few bidden guests, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. Alfred Landman, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Mrs. G. D. Roach, Mrs. Gladys Van Dyke, Mrs. Eugene Chapella, Mrs. Earl Ledbetter, Mrs. Albert V. Chappell, Mrs. Bert Ward, Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, Mrs. Geo. M. Harrison, Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. Frank Peters, Mrs. B. F. Hilliker, Mrs. W. R. Heustis, Mrs. J. S. Rochester, Miss Filger, Miss Dorothy Bonnell and Miss Harriett Wells.

A large, artistic, rustic basket of cream white chrysanthemums and feathery ferns beautified the large oval board, the three smaller tables bearing a crystal vase of pink roses, on another rested a bowl of pink chrysanthemums and on the third the same feathery blossom of white had been arranged. A most elaborate course luncheon was served and the most cunning conceits in place cards reminding the guests of "Turkey day." Conversation and clever stories sped the hours of the afternoon.

REAL NEW ENGLAND DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Learned of Sixth street, Burbank, extended their gracious hospitality to relatives and friends, numbering forty, on Thanksgiving day, when they gave a real old fashioned New England dinner, like those "mother used to cook." Instead of frosted window panes and a huge log fire as a background the perfectly browned turkey was served out-of-doors under the spreading branches of a huge sycamore tree and the fresh green corn was brought in from the fields the day before. The spacious ranch house was gayly done in cream, white and pink chrysanthemums, together with foliage greens, while the well-laden out-of-doors banquet board was brightened with red geraniums and ferns. Guests present came from Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Glendale, Eureka, Ill.; Vineland, New Jersey, and Burbank.

MOTHERS COME

The Home Economic section of the Columbus avenue school, Parent-Teacher association, will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, December 2, at 2:30 o'clock.

Dr. Woods Comstock will speak on the care of the growing girl between the ages of 10 and 15. It is a subject that should strongly appeal to the present day mothers of girls and it is sincerely hoped that a large attendance will be present on this afternoon.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

INTER-SCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL —SCIENCE CLUB—STUDENT BODY MEETING—FIRST LEAGUE DEBATE

A week ago last Wednesday afternoon Glendale met the U. S. C. prep. school in the first interscholastic basketball game of the season. Coach Wight played in different fellows who showed up in the interclass matches. Powers, West, Fishel, T. McIver, W. McIver, Fagin, Francy, Renshaw, Wilson, Fansett, Phillips and Robertshaw all played part of the game. The local boys both by their team work and fine individual work, played all around their opponents. The prep school boys seemed to get right into the game, but they lost out by their continual field passing. The game was an easy victory for Glendale. In fact the only question was, by what score the prep. school boys would be defeated. The official score was 18-5.

Science Club

The members of the Science club met last Wednesday afternoon. This club is one of the new organizations of the year and promises to be in every way successful. The members are students who are taking science courses in school, or who are in any way interested in science. The officers are: President, Howard McGillis; vice-president, Mary Jane Evans; secretary, Vera Bayard, and treasurer, William Rees.

Student Body Meeting

At the regular Student Body meeting, held last Friday morning, the oath of office was given to the members of the executive committee, the vice-president and secretary of the Student Body and the three appointed members of the senate. The two members of the executive committee elected last term are Mildred Wight, '17, and J. T. Beach, '16. Those elected this term are Margaret Gregg, '18, Clyde Brooks, '16; William Bode, '16; Olin Wilson, '17, and Chauncey Kolts, '19. The vice president is Herbert Scheuner, '18. The new members of the senate are: Fanny Hagin, '18, appointed by the faculty; Carol Willisford, '16, chairman of the literary committee, and "Bill" Balthis, '18, chairman of the athletic committee.

After the officers had been sworn in announcements were made about the Stylus by Willard Learned, editor-in-chief; Rebecca Gregg, literary editor; Katheryne Green, joke editor and Margaret McPherson, photo editor. The remaining time was given over to a rally for the debating teams. Mrs. Gibson led the student body in songs and Harry Glazier acted as yell leader.

Seniors vs. Allies

One of the best basketball games so far this season was the game played on the campus last Friday afternoon, in which the Seniors, the basketball champions, defeated a team composed mostly of alumni stars. The Allies were Joe Fishel, Ray McDonald, Monty Coole, Carlton Padelford and Alec McDonald, The Seniors were far in the lead during the first half, but the Allies worked up during the latter part of the game so that one-half a minute before time was called the score stood 21 to 20 in favor of the Allies. The Seniors, however, used their half minute to advantage and when the final whistle was sounded the score stood 22 to 21 in favor of the Seniors. Joe Fishel played an excellent game and made some wonderful baskets. Alec McDonald played the comedy part to keep the Scrubs amused. Both teams played well and made the game an interesting one.

The league basketball games have not yet been scheduled.

First League Debate

Last Friday night the first interscholastic debate of the year took place between Glendale and Santa Monica at Santa Monica. The other debate was scheduled between Glendale and South Pasadena, at Glendale, but South Pasadena defaulted. At Santa Monica Sam Durand and Howard Stickney won with two judges. This gave Glendale five out of six judges for the first debate. The debate at Santa Monica was an excellent one. Both speakers on the Santa Monica team were experienced debaters and expected an easy victory.. The Glendale speakers knew their subject perfectly and had their argument so cleverly worked out that it was almost impossible to attack it. The local debaters scored especially in rebuttal, where they broke down the whole system of proof of their opponents.

In a practice debate with Lincoln High, Frank Bridgeford and Joseph Maier put up a splendid debate, but lost, winning only one judge out of three. The next league debate, on "National Preparedness" will take place Jan. 21. Glendale's two teams will meet Huntington Park at Glendale and Huntington Beach at Huntington Beach.

"We can save you money"

This advertising expression undoubtedly dates back to the beginning of barter and sale, and as a talking point is hard to beat.

The only trouble about its use is that some people are impetuous and want to see the saving quick.

So far as tires are concerned, and if it is the immediate dollar right in hand that is wanted, you can beat Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires for a quick saving at the start.

BUT if it is the big saving that comes from accumulated mileage that's most inviting, we can truly save you money on Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires.

EAGLE ROCK

The football game played Saturday afternoon at Claremont between the Occidental Tigers and Pomona Huns resulted 52 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. Hurrah for "Oxy!" This is the second time Occidental has won from Pomona, the other time being in 1914.

December 4 is the date chosen for the big game to be held on Baer field, where the Tigers will meet the team from Syracuse, New York.

A more determined effort seems to be being made by both sides at this time and the result bids fair to be close.

Improvement Association Meeting

The La Canada Improvement Association meeting was held in the La Canada hall Saturday evening, Nov. 20. There was a large attendance. On account of the tardiness of E. H. Brooks, the president, the meeting was called to order by the vice president, P. H. Johnson, who presided over the meeting until after the reading of the minutes by the secretary, F. H. Ranger, and the transaction of business by the association. President Brooks, who now resides in Los Angeles, arrived in time to make one of his characteristic talks. The main point Mr. Brooks brought out in his remarks was that people of the La Canada community should be more sociable—they should have a deeper interest in one another's welfare. He mentioned the passing away of several of La Canada's citizens the past year, and wondered if those men and women who had gone to the Great Beyond have been entirely forgotten by the living. The speaker referred in a very feeling manner to the death of Mr. Murphy and the conditions surrounding it, and suggested that maybe the people of the La Canada community might have done something to prevent that great tragedy.

The chair then announced that the literary and musical part of the program had been left in the hands of A. T. Cowan, editor of the Glendale Evening News and the Tri-City Progress. Mr. Cowan said Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan of Glendale and several of her pupils were present and would give the program.

The program opened by the playing of a piano duet by Miss Lillian Mason and Mrs. Sloan. Miss Mason is one of Mrs. Sloan's pupils and gives evidence of having received thorough instruction. Mrs. Sloan gave several readings, which were listened to by a very appreciative audience.

Miss Dorothy Bonnell, a pupil of Mrs. Sloan's studio, gave a demonstration of Grecian posing. Miss Bonnell has great power as a demonstrator in this line of work, and it was the opinion of many present that they had never witnessed such aptness in feature changing. Little Miss Margaret Lou Ledbetter gave a monologue, "All Liars," in a very easy and comprehensive manner, greatly pleasing the audience. Miss Packer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Packer of Glendale, gave a reading that is deserving of special mention. The program as a whole was an excellent production and was pronounced by Chairman Brooks as being of a higher class than he has been priviledged to hear at the meetings of the Improvement association. Mrs. Sloan, although appearing before the audience a stranger, gained the good will and admiration of everybody present on account of her superior ability as an entertainer.

After the close of the literary part of the program the question of the citizens of La Canada preparing a float to take part in the floral parade at Pasadena January first was taken up for further consideration. All members seem to favor La Canada's being represented with a float at the annual tournament of roses. The La Canada Valley community always stands ready to take part in all enterprises that tend toward the advancement of her people.

Further Remarks From the "Observer"

Occasionally we hear some one complain that the town is not growing, that while we have a fine boulevard and more street work being done, there is no building. Now, we should all bear in mind that this is not an industrial district where foundries, factories and mills will ever locate. It is a high class residence district with exceptional natural advantages, which can be equaled by but few localities in the world and surpassed by none. Having these advantages, it remains for us to make the best possible use of them, and to encourage the building of high grade residences by people who have the means to gratify their tastes in the way of fine homes and beautiful grounds. Such investments are a help to everyone, while a few rows of cheap bungalows on fifty foot lots would queer this beautiful valley for all time.

What I would impress on the people of the valley is that when they build, consult a good architect, and when they sell land have high and carefully drawn building restrictions written in the deed. This is the only way we can keep this "Nature's Beauty Spot" what it should be. So much for the future.

Now, for what has been done within the last three years in the way of building. I have a list of eleven residences costing $140,000.

One for	$ 30,000
Two for $25,000	50,000
One for	15,000
One for	10,000
One for	8,000
Two for $7,000	14,000
One for	5,000
Two for $4,000	8,000

I have another list of ten residences costing $24,000, or an average of $2500 each. This makes $164,000 spent for residences in three years, and most of it in the last year. While some of our neighboring villages have built from five to ten times the number of houses that we have, they have not increased the assessed valuation and certainly not the artistic valuation of their localities to any great extent.

We are doing fine, if we only stop to think a minute, and we have only just started. All we need is a few more optimists and men of means and nerve to back their judgment, and we will make some of the neighboring towns look like the proverbial thirty cents.

Here is something recently published in the Digest which I think covers our case exactly.

"If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new,
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town,
It isn't the town—it's you.

"Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead,
When every one works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see,
It isn't the town—it's you."

Miles on the bee committee. Mrs. Woodruff gave a talk on her own experience with bees and an estimate of the cost of the paraphernalia necessary for beginners in bee culture. Friday Night Round Table

Considerable discussion was indulged in last Friday evening by different ones owing to some slight misunderstanding concernig a motion made by Capt. Hatch at the previous meeting to organize a Home Craft Club. Capt. Hatch refused to withdraw the motion and it was allowed to stand. It was decided that the Home Craft Club should conduct the Friday eveing round table meetings hereafter and that the discussions should continue in the same practical way as heretofore. Those taking part in the informal program were Mr. Ashby, Mr. George H. Maxwell, P. J. Blake, Capt. Hatch, Mr. M. V. Hartranft, Dr. Kearney, Rev. Mr. Birchley and Mr. Darlington. Mr. Shumway gave some practical hints as to the cultivation of potatoes. Mr. Maxwe'l continued his lecture, speaking at some length on the subject of home craft. Home craft has been a success wherever it is undertaken. In its conception it is national. It does not embrace the idea of colonization as does the Littlelands idea. But is similar to the Littlelands movement in that it gets people away from the crowded centers and gets them to cultivating the soil, but it is not expected to be the only source of income as in the latter. The fundamental idea of the Littlelands movement is for a family to occupy only as much land as they can cultivate without help from outside. Our whole educational system needs reconstruction on entirely different lines. There should be a manse right by the school with the teacher and his wife to teach the children how to live as well as to instruct them in the school room. It was decided on motion that the different committees se'ect topics for discussion that are germain to the home craft club. Subjects suggested: Kind of trees and number best for the different lots; Ideal lists for acres and half acres; Number of chickens necessary for one family. Next Friday night there will be a discussion on budding and grafting.

Last Suday Rev. Mr. Birchley of La Jolla preached both morning and evening at the services of the Christian federation. He delivered two sermons, the evening really a continuation and elaboration of the one given in the morning. The audience evinced their interest by the close attention paid to the speaker. He spoke of the necessity of the radical change necessary in the life of one who becomes a Christian. Of the necessity of knowing the Bible and of the dealings of God with man and the different manifestations of God in the different dispensations. In the evening he spoke especially of the second coming of Christ which he thinks is perhaps very near.

GLAZED SWEET POTATOES

Glazed sweet potatoes are especially nice when cooked with honey. Split the boiled sweets lengthways in thick slices, arrange them on a well buttered baking dish, dust them with pepper, salt and a little sugar, and turn over them a small cup of strained honey and a tablespoon of lemon juice. The lemon juice keeps the honey from candying. Bake the potatoes until they are a delicate brown. Currant jelly, celery and olives are the relishes for this course.
